EXPERIENCE

Jennifer has been a USAS coaching member since 1998. Early on, it became apparent that her focus on swimmer safety was above anything else she did as a coach. She encouraged every swimmer, every parent and every coach she worked with to take notice of anything and everything surrounding them. It is in empowering oneself with knowledge and in observation that can help to eliminate the risks that may surround not only our children, but everyone involved within USA Swimming. Subsequently, it is through this constant observation and never turning a blind's eye to any situation that dismantled a potentially dangerous situation within a club she had previously coached.

In addition to coaching, she has been camp aquatic director, head swim instructor and lifeguard supervisor for a facility in New York. It is this experience which has propelled her determination in keeping not only her two daughters safe, but everyone in our sport.

It has been essential to continually plan, implement and evaluate our Safe Sport program. As a Health Education and Behavior graduate from the University of Florida, this is the perfect opportunity to combine her education in program planning with the sport she has been involved with for decades. It would be an honor to build upon the years of education that the 2 previous Safe Sport Chairs, York and Chollette, have established and presented to Potomac Valley Swimming.
